SOAK UP RAYS IN THE 13M STAINLESS STEEL INFINITY POOL, OR SIP COFFEE UNDER OLIVE TREES

Bespoke Inn, Scottsdale, Arizona

Dubbed the Miami of the desert, Scottsdale is Arizona's hippest city. The Bespoke Inn is the place to rest your weary party head – each of the four rooms is named after one of the owner's family members, and a luxury resort vibe is combined with a homely B&B feel. Soak up the Arizona rays and take a dip in the 13m stainless steel infinity pool, or enjoy a coffee underneath the century-old olive trees in the courtyard. Don't chill too long – Scottsdale is rammed with decent bars and quirky shops. Guys should try We Do Men, a male-only spa, with a website guaranteeing a "seriously happy ending" – of the radiant complexion variety.

HOW: Nightly rates start from £225, bespokeinn.com; BA offers return flights to Scottsdale from £756, ba.com

Field Guide Stowe, Vermont

For a hotel that combines stellar interior design with the big outdoors, the new Field Guide hotel in downtown Stowe, Vermont, is the place for you. Designer Rachel Reider has embraced the hiking area is famous for (try skiing in the winter), while also providing casual hip touches – bird wallpaper and papier mâché animal heads.

With its bright red barns, winding tree-lined trails, quaint town centre and miles of wilderness, Stowe is a picture-perfect example of prime Vermont countryside.

True to its name, the hotel provides vintage field guides (you're here to hike mountains, baby!), and for guests visiting in the winter there's a heated pool in the middle of the doughnut-shaped property. Nearby you'll find the famous Ben & Jerry's ice-cream factory (you can try all the flavours), and distilleries and breweries galore.

HOW: From £108 per night, fieldguidestowe.com; BA offers return flights from £865, ba.com ▲
