

Rhode Island MONTHLY

SUMMER DINING

► This time of year, the weather's too good to waste on dark dining rooms and mediocre menus. Never squander away a summer day again with our guide to the best al fresco spots, seafood options and fun, outdoorsy locations to eat and drink across the state. We've organized it by family-friendly, couples-worthy and friend-dates, plus pup-friendly options. Or take our favorite recipes from local restaurants and cook up a feast for your backyard.

EDITED BY JAMIE COELHO WITH REPORTING ASSISTANCE BY
NICOLE MINEAU AND GABBY SIZEMORE
PHOTOGRAPHY BY DOMINIC PERRI

---

THE SPOT: Chair 5, 1208 Ocean Rd., Narragansett, 363-9800, dinechair5.com

THE VIBE: Surfer style is coming on strong at this beach bar and rooftop with views of the ocean. Chair 5's roof deck is located at the top of the new boutique Break Hotel, and it's named after a lifeguard chair where locals gather on Narragansett Town Beach. Jam out to live music on Friday and Saturday nights, plus Sunday afternoons.

SUMMER EATS: Mini lobster rolls with dill aioli on potato rolls, and chef Basil Yu's smoked chicken wings, brined, cold-smoked with mesquite wood, then deep-fried and tossed in a sweet soy glaze.

WHAT TO SIP: Persephone's Folly, made with pomegranate liqueur, gin, fresh lime juice and rosemary-infused simple syrup, or the Chai-tini with vodka, coffee liqueur, chai cream and chocolate sauce.

---